Northern Tip-Off Tournament Set

by John Middlekauff

For the second consecutive year the Northern High School athletic department will sponsor the season opening Tip-off Tournament featuring four excellent girls basketball teams. Northern's Lady Bears will appear not only as hosts for this tournament but also the defending champions as they captured last year's event.

The Lady Bears coached by Rick Speck, will be joined by the ladies from Bermudian Springs, Cedar Cliff and Dover. These were the same four that participated last year and believe me there were some exciting games. The same should hold true for this year as well.

Thursday December 6, will be the date for first round action. The first contest, scheduled for a 6:30 p.m. start with find the Lady Colts of Cedar Cliff going up against the Dover Eagles. At 8 p.m. Northern will match up against Bermudian in the second contest of the evening. On Saturday night, December 8, at the same 6:30 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. starting times you will have the consolation game and then the championship game.

At this point in time, not much is known about any of the participating squads so that should make things interesting enough Bermudian finished in the number four spot in last year's tournament although they did have an exciting backcourt duo but not much else. Dover finished third, although they had a couple of good sized young ladies and played tough basketball in their two games. Cedar Cliff wound up in second but they almost knocked off Northern to take all the marbles. One thing about the Lady Colts is for sure, barring an unforeseen injury, they will feature one of the bright stars in Mid-Penn basketball circles, Leigh Detweiler. Miss Detweiler was a very talented basketball player for the Colts last year and was the Tip-Off Tournament's Most Valuable Player.

Northern will be looking to find the answers that kept escaping them last year. Most of the championship team has graduated, but the Lady Bears still have Gretchen.

Early season games let alone tournaments, have a nice way of separating the grain from the chaff. They provide pleasant surprises or, many disappointments, but they do give the teams an early chance to look at themselves.

This tournament should be fun to watch! I plan to be there. I hope you will be there too. Come on out and support the athletic department. Come on out and support the Northern girls! If you haven't been to a high school game or haven't been to a girls game, I highly recommend that you take the time to come out! By the way tell your friends and neighbors-maybe they would like to come too! It certainly would be great to see the "Bears Den" packed both nights.

Don't forget December 6 and 8, Northern's Basketball Tip-Off Tournament.

Purple Haze

by Chris Fiohr

After a short week the NHS student body is back for the long haul toward Christmas vacation.

Meanwhile on Thanksgiving Day, some Northern Polar Bears were still playing football almost two weeks after the season was supposed to have ended. Clark Flohr and Dan Cook played in an East Shore-West Shore All-Star game at West Shore stadium. Dan did his job on the offensive and defensive lines, while Clark put his time in at inside linebacker and on kick-offs. Even though their team, the West, lost, both players performed well and represented the Bears honorably.

Last Tuesday, NHS was invaded by the U.S. Armed Forces for one purpose: testing. The junior class took the ASVAB tests. Tuesday morning. The tests themselves were not difficult, but the conditions were less than comfortable to take them. The students had to sit in the auditorium for almost three and a half hours. More students walked out with sore backs than with drained minds.

The winter sports have now started. The wrestling and girls and boys basketball teams are looking forward to successful seasons. From all preliminary reports, the first two weeks of practices were grueling. Come and support all of the NHS sports teams. The boys play their first home game on December 7 against Bermudian. The girls will host a tip-off tournament including Bermudian Springs, Cedar Cliff, and Dover on December 6 and 8, and the wrestlers will have their first home match versus Mechanicsburg on December 20.

Christmas is coming and I'd like to end this edition by advising the students to start shopping for your gifts. It will be here before you know it.

Free Enterprise Exhibit

The Northern DECA students of the Distributive Education Clubs of America demonstrated their awareness of the American Free Enterprise System at an exhibit displayed at the Camp Hill Mall.

The exhibit is part of the students participation in the Free Enterprise Chapter Event project that will be entered for State Competition for the Distributive Education Clubs of America.

The objective of this project is to promote an understanding of Free Enterprise to the students and to the community.

The DECA students would especially like to thank McDonald's and the Board of Directors of the Camp Hill Mall for their support and participation of their exhibit

Axiliary to meet

The Dillsburg Youth Baseball/Softball Auxiliary meeting will be held on Wednesday, December 5. 1990 at 7 p.m., Franklin Township Municipal Building, Century Lane, Dillsburg, Pa. There will be several fundraising items on display.

As a result of our October meeting, each family will be given the option to either sell a box of candy (non-returnable) and pay $20 for 1st player and $15 for each player or (2) Pay $30.00 for each player in family (no candy).

Since this plan leaves a deficit of $1000.00, there was a suggestion that the auxiliary run three concession stands at the Dillsburg Elementary fields with a paid supervisor who would do the ordering, stocking and planning for the three stands. She/he would have volunteers run the stands during the games. Several other suggestions are being put on display.

If you can help our league, please send the information to Betty Wolfe, 246 Old York Road, Dillsburg Pa. 17019 or call 432-9408. Thank you for caring about our league.

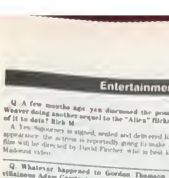
Entertainment Extra by Evelyn

Q. A few months ago you discussed the possibility of Sigourney Weaver doing another sequel to the "Alien" flicks. Has anything come of it to date? Rick M.

A. Yes. Negotiations to signed, sealed and delivered for "Aliens III." For her appearance the actress is reportedly going to make a cool $5 million. The film will be directed by David Fincher who is best known for his "Nightmare on Madonna Video."

Q. Whatever happened to Gordon Thomson who portrayed the villainous Adam Carrington on "Dynasty?" Iris C.



A. Gordon is joining the cast of NBC's hit soap opera "Santa Barbara" as Mason Capwell. The role became available when a contract snafu occurred, portrayed by Jane Daniels.

Q. Is there a running feud between comedians Bette Midler and Roseanne Barr? Nan R.

A. Not really. However Roseanne in furious over the remarks in November's Penthouse in which Midler stated that recently today "has been public about Betty, she does puke fun of her in her stage show. Barr also notes that Midler was one of many female comedians who've paved the way for Barr herself.

Q. Why hasn't Liza Minnelli ever portrayed her mom in a motion picture? Joyce A.

A. Liza never has sung any of the songs that made her mother famous, and she simply would never consider portraying her famous mom in a movie.

Q. What is my favorite actress, Doris Day doing these days? Gregory L.

A Good news! Still as beautiful as ever Doris has signed on with ABC-TV and will star in three films per year. It has been 17 years since Doris has appeared on network television.

Q. What is the status of "Murder, She Wrote" starring Angela Lansbury? Barry A.

A. Angela has stated that this will be the last season in which she will portray Jessica Fletcher sleuth in the weekly series. However Angela's contract with she will continue the character forever as long as the general public wants it. By starring in one less movie per year as Jessica Fletcher. In addition, Angela is working on another series for 1991 next year and yearns to return to Broadway — her first love.

Q. I started watching the Dick Deese show on ABC ("Into the Night"), and I was happy to see Lisa Canning on it. I know her mostly from the radio show she does out here in Los Angeles. Can you tell me something about her background? Millie J.

A. Lisa was born in St. Thomas in the U.S. Virgin Islands She says "I always wanted to be in show business, but if I had had to choose some other career, I would do something that involved helping children." The lovely actress started on radio while she was still in high school and continued through college She moved to Florida in 1976 and began working in radio in Orlando She then moved to Ft. Lessa, Missouri and finally came to Los Angeles where she's become one of the young top role on the horizon for the ABC "Into the Night" show. she made history as TV's first on-camera female announcer.

Lisa says "My expectations about doing the show were pretty well met. There's been no disappointments As with everything, were all learning, and I hope all getting better at what we do."

Q. Please settle this argument in our home. I know Candice Bergen's parents were once an actress but I'm sure Colleen Dewhurst only plays her mother on "Murphy Brown." Right? Well, my sister says she really is her mother and says you'll agree with her. So, who's right? Tish B.

A. You are Bergen's mother in Pioneer Days.

Q. Whatever happened to the marriage ceremony that was supposed to take place between Robert Conforter in the current of "Beauty and the Beast" on the Family channel? Did Rose Fairmax and Linda Hamilton have a special episode for that and when will we see it? Moira C.

A. The ceremony never happened and won't happen. The idea came from the Family Channel people who thought it would be a "moral" way to explain the appearance of Vincent and Catherine's child Jacob. But the producer of the series need no in any event if it would have happened, neither Rose nor Linda would have been involved directly stopping and opting some already taped scenes would have been that means by when the marriage would have been included.

Q. With all those arrests Meryl Streep can do, what is her husband? Lenore P.

A. Dutch

DEAR DIANE
by Duane Van Arsdale

DEAR DIANE:

I have this problem with this girl at my locker, and I need the right words to tell her. I'm starting a locker with one of my friends, and I agreed to share it by the beginning, but I am losing all my organization because I don't have enough room to store my books and all my junk. I don't want to be unsociable, but I really need my locker back and I wish that she'd move back to her own locker. The reason that she moved into my locker was because she liked a kid who was a locker away from mine. I want to have my locker back since I want my good grades and organization back and since she has that kid now I did try to tell her my problem today but she kept giving me the "If you ask me you'll die" look and she kept giving it to anyone who she couldn't move. She said that she forgot her old combination and she doesn't even know where her locker is anymore, because she forgot. I think that it is a stupid excuse. I've been better than that. I don't want to get into a fight with her and I want her out of my locker. Please give me some suggestions as to what to say without hurting her feelings.

LOCKER

DEAR LOCKER:

DEAR DEX
by Dexter Dyer

DEAR DEX:

I was married for seven years and was faithful until approximately a year ago when my wife found out that I was having an affair, she was hurt, but not the least. Over time she came to grasp the fact that I wasn't coming back to her. I had moved out and got an apartment of my own. Now that the year has passed, the infatuation has worn off with my mistress and my wife is constantly on my mind. She had tried everything to save our marriage, and I simply really never gave it a fair chance. I decided to see a marriage counselor with her, or anything else that could have brought us back together. Now that she has accepted the fact that we can never be a couple again, she has started her own life. She is seeing another man at present, and it drives me crazy. I would like to start over again, and give it a real chance again, this time giving it all I can. I believe she might even consider it, but I'm afraid to approach her. She told me that I had treated her many times in the past that there was never a chance for us to be a couple again. Now I know I was dead wrong and to see she's on another chance I can't escape the dreams and thoughts I have about her, so they are frequent. How can I go about approaching her and explain to her that I really need her back?

LOST

DEAR LOST:

Sometime I find myself wondering if your sudden interest in someone you once knew is prompted simply by the fact that you can't obtain them or because you have never been with the same person. Is it a matter of ego that if someone has reconciliation in their life you approach him with Thanks? Is it something about the person you approach? How will you feel if you succeed in your attempt? Is it worth it to you? Are you willing to take the chance, don't repeat past mistakes.
